

Pictured above: Jayashree Krishnan, RN Yvonne White from Jefferson Health, Philadelphia, print of original watercolor, 5 x 5 inches, 2020. This is part of a series called "Caring for Humanity." The original paintings are gifted to the health care worker. Photo courtesy of the artist.

Sheltering in the Studio (Place) ART COLLECTION

This art collection is on display at Ida Culver House Broadview until June 20, 2021.

Creativity persists. Shows may have been postponed or cancelled, but the compelling urge for making art continues. During this unprecedented global pandemic, visual artists express their emotions in response to these trying times. This exhibition features work exclusively created during the pandemic, and covers a variety of experiences and emotions from events that have taken place in 2020.

Exhibiting Artists: Olga Bolgar, Jennifer Carroll, Barbara L Chapman, Anna Choi Lee, Penny Clayton, Robert Deffeyes, Josh Del Pino, Lynn Di Nino, Becky Frehse and members of Puget Sound Book Artists, Terri H. Gerard, Judith Heim, Maggie Jiang, Jack Johnston, Kiraya Kestin, Jayashree Krishnan, Donna Lough, Fiona McCargo, Arvia E. Morris, Molly Murrah, Joan O'Byrne, Victoria Raymond, Johanna Rinehart, Kathy Roseth, Joan Stuart Ross, Cathy Sarkowsky, Max Sarkowsky, Juliet Shen, Renée Simard, Deborah Chava Singer, Phil Stoiber, Wen-Hsi Tsen, Cynthia Wessling, Rickie Wolfe, and Kathi Erickson.
Curated by: June Sekiguchi